

Friday, September 22, 2006

Chicago HR firm sets up Waltham office

Capital H Group, a Chicago-based human resources consulting firm, has opened an office in Waltham to help it expand in New England, the company said. The company has dispatched seven consultants to work in the office, led by managing director Judson DeCew, a former executive with HR firms Weiser Enterprise Advisors and the Hunter Group.